

we up u
thumb-sit
This holl
is extend action pr cles, the
the exten
by th.

pa th
the
crea
is This holl
pump-
me not a

omises
something

ed
managers about

ate
Her
ment
promises
to create more public
writer
creates was
John

orate

create

EDUCATE

British Film Success

Last year saw the spending on UK film production reach £1.17 billion. Films included Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban, and Bridget Jones: The Edge of Reason. The £13 million of Lottery funding invested in the UK Film Council (UKFC) by DCMS generated nearly £126 million, which represents a return of more than £9 million for every £1 million invested. A significant rise in investment from abroad shows the increasing appeal of the UK as a location for film production.

Lizzie Collcutt

“I wanted to make a plain and simple show of all the film industry’s recent successes. I’ve framed a montage with a cinema setting, emphasising the enjoyment of the audience as the development of the industry.” Lizzie Graduated in 2003 from Bath Spa University with a degree in Graphic Design specialising in illustration.

Collaborate, Create, Educate

Collaborate, Create, Educate was a conference run in 2003 by DCMS and the Department for Education and Skills to highlight the role of creativity in the curriculum. Last year Creative Partnerships completed its first full year of activities in schools in 16 areas around the country, developing long-term partnerships between schools and a host of creative organisations, including architects, theatre companies, museums, recording studios and website designers.

Adonis Kalkan Zakos

Adonis has brought images from the conference to life with colour and movement. “I wanted to suggest support and joined-up working and have used these figures to reflect working together.” Adonis is in his first year at Chelsea School of Art and Design, part of the London Institute. He wants to specialise in digital illustration and is looking forward to a career in freelance work.

British Film Success

Lizzie Collcutt

Collaborate, Create, Educate

Adonis Kalkan Zakos